

SHELLY ROAD ROUNDABOUT

Preliminary conceptual design

PennDOT and FHWA Highway Safety Improvement Program

As part of a regional study, PennDOT selected the intersection of Old Skippack Pike, Schwenksville Road, and Shelly Road to install a federally-funded roundabout in order to reduce the rates of angle and head-on crashes. Thanks to the new intersection design with fewer conflict points and no crossing conflicts, the roundabout at this intersection is estimated to reduce crashes by about 80%!

For more information on roundabouts and a video from the Federal Highway Administration, see this website: <https://bit.ly/2oUMtdO>

Prepared by Montgomery County Planning Commission